A HAVERHILL mum, paralysed from the shoulders down, is pleading with local authorities to help her lead "some sort of proper life".

Toni Cant broke her neck in a horrific car crash on New Year's Day in 2010.

Since then she feels her prob-lems have been "swept under the carpet" by those who said they would help her find somewhere suitable to live.

Despite her severe disability, the 23-year-old is still living in the two-storey house she was renting in Bloomsfield Road. Haverhill, before the accident, having suffered a series of knock-backs from housing officials in her search for a more appropriate home.

Restricted to sleeping and living in her small front room, Ms Cant has not had a shower in almost a year, and her 5-yearold daughter, Scarlett, has to live with her grandmother, Anna Cant, on the other side of town.

Ms Cant, who was in hospital for eight months, said she only expected to return to her old home for a short period before housing officials found her a home more suited to her needs.

She said: "They must have known I would have to come home at some point and that I would need somewhere to come back to – but they did not do anything.

"At first they said they would get me a bungalow but then they said there wasn't the space. Then they mentioned adapting a house but they came back and said that wasn't possible.

"Now they say they will build a house but that will take at least a couple of years. I get my hopes up and I get let down.

Healthcare gets £27m injection

WEST Suffolk MP Matthew Hancock has welcomed an extra investment of £27 million to support healthcare in Suffolk.

The new money, announced last Friday, will be spent on Government priorities such as the Cancer Drugs Fund, investment in talking therapies for those with mental health conditions, extra health visitors, and support for carers' breaks.

It pushes the amount spent by the NHS in Suffolk to £918 million overall.

Mr Hancock said: "We recognise just how important the NHS is to this country and to patients here in Suffolk

"That's why the Coalition Government is protecting the NHS not just for today, but for future generations.

"Next year alone, our county will benefit from an extra £27 million of investment going straight to doctors, nurses and other frontline services."

town centre store's transformation will offer Haverhill shoppers the chance to dress for less.

The St Nicholas Hospice Care shop, in High Street, has become a bargain hunter's heaven since it was re-established as a discount outlet – selling quality goods at low prices. Prices in store range from just 50p to £5.

Manager Karen Beale said the initiative, which has proved very popular with locals, would run for four months, with the possibility of it being extended.

She said: "Shoppers will have to keep checking regularly for bargains, because we have a oneweek stock turnover.

"We will still be stocking the same mix of clothes, bric-a-brac and books as before, just at discount prices."

Weekly News reporter Adam Luke was invited along to the store to see what bargains could be found, with the assistance of Mrs Beale.

He said: "I found an outfit for just £8 all together. It looked really good and I was more than happy to part with my money for quality clothing, with the money going to a great local cause. I got a jacket, a polo shirt and a pair of jeans.

The shop was very busy and I wish them the best of luck

The shop is run by volunteers who serve customers, sort through donations and carry out window dressing.

Mrs Beale added: "We would love to hear from anyone who might like to volunteer - we need help with every aspect of the shop."

If you are interesting in helping, contact Mrs Beale or Rachel Minns on (01440) 712992 or visit the shop, which is open from 9.30am until 4.30pm Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday, and 9.30am until 1pm on Wednesday.

Woman left shaken by street attack

A MIDDLE-AGED woman was forced to the ground by a man during a late-night attack in Haverhill.

The assault took place in Camps Road between 12.30am and 1.15am

The 47-year-old was walking opposite the town's recreation field when the offender struck.

A spokeswoman for Suffolk police aid: "She was walking opposite the rec when she heard someone behind her, but could not see anyone.

'When she reached the Methodist Church a man ran from the rec and pushed her to the floor. She strug-gled and he ran off towards the town centre. She was shaken but unhurt."

The man is described as black, between 5ft 8in and 5ft 10in tall, with short black hair. He was wearing a dark jacket and dark jeans.

Soon after, two men who were walking past spotted the distressed woman and asked if she was ok, but she ran away in fear.

The woman was stopped again by a man wearing a cream jumper and driving a small blue car, who also asked how she was, before he set off along Camps Road in an attempt to find the offender.

The police want to speak to anyone who was in the area at the time, particularly the three men. Call Pc Carl Edley at Haverhill police on (01284) 774100.

something they could enjoy and learn from at the same time.

"Diana has a background in working with children and mine is in maths, so we wanted to have a game that fitted both of these things and thought a small, maths-based game would be really good."

The application has been given five stars in all of its reviews. One comment said the game was "a fun way for my 6-year-old to practice his sums...bargain."

The couple are now turning their attention toward creating a literacy game, also aimed at primary school children

The Government have guaranteed a 25 Year Index Linked Pay Back Scheme to all home owners

How to get paid for generating your own electricity

- It's simple, install solar electricity panels on your roof through EnergyCare Group.
- Your electricity supplier will pay you 41.3p for every unit (Kwh) you generate.
- You will also get paid 3p for every unit you export back to the National Grid.
- Dependant on the size of your roof and your location, you could generate an annual income of over £1,000.
- With electricity prices set to soar and the pay back index linked for 25 years the money you make/save will increase.

PUBLIC sector spending cuts will be in the spotlight at a business meeting in the town later

CHILDREN at a Haverhill church showed their appreciation on Mothering Sunday by giving spring daffodils to their loved ones.

Town gets £1.7m boost

A FUNDING windfall has come Haverhill's way as nearly £1.7 million has been earmarked for development projects in the

The Government money will include £750,000 to be invested in the High Street, a further £750,000 to develop Hanchet End Business Park, and £180,000 which will be put towards the construction of 10 affordable homes on the junction of Kestrel Road and Millfields Way.

Cllr Terry Clements, chairman of the borough's growth partnership board, said that the money came as a result of St Edmundsbury Council's decision to take out loans rather than grants when the borough was named a growth area in 2007.

He said: "Many councils simply handed over their money to developers, but we decided to safeguard funds for the future.

"By negotiating loans we can recycle that money, at a time when public funds are drying up, into other projects when the loans are repaid.

"Everybody benefits – the developers get a helping hand to kick-start their plans, jobs are created and we get to use the money again."

The High Street is set to be renovated from Market Square to Quakers Lane, covering street furniture, lighting and paving. Consultation over these plans will begin in May.

SCHOOLS across the region have had their individual GCSE results published for the first time.

The move is part of a Government effort to help parents come to a more informed decision on where to send their child.

The new tables drawn up by the Department for Education give information on the achievement and attainment of pupils in secondary schools, and how they compare with other schools in their local authority and in England as a whole

In addition to giving background information on every school in England, the statistics present all GCSE results from last year. These include the percentage of pupils achieving grades A* to C in each school – previously these had to include English and maths - and year-by-year comparisons.

St Edmundsbury schools performed particularly well, with 79.1 per cent of its secondary school pupils picking up at least five GCSEs at grades A* to C in any subjects.

This was far higher than the average of 74.3 per cent for the Eastern region and makes the borough the highest

Region's schools publish results

achiever in Suffolk.

But just 54.3 per cent of pupils in the borough achieved at least five A*s to Cs including maths and English, below the regional average of 56 per cent.

The county as a whole failed to reach national averages of achievement at GCSE level.

Whereas Suffolk was marginally above the national average for pupils with five grades A* to C at any subject in 2006 with 59.4 per cent, by last year it had failed to improve at the national rate and was more than 4 per cent below England's average.

The tables, designed to complement the work of Ofsted inspections and school prospectuses, also show how pupils have progressed from Key Stage 2 to Key Stage 4 by tracking test and exam scores, and for the first time take into account the increasingly popular English Baccalaureate.

Michael Gove, Education Secretary said: "We live in an age when people expect more information, not less, in all areas of life. Our schools should be no different. For too long exam results in schools have been hidden."

Moral issues are at stake

Sir, Regarding the sad story of people knocking the wages of Suffolk County Council chief executive Andrea Hill (Councillor attacks county chief critics – Weekly News, March 31). This is not a question of a certain paper, but ordinary folk who make do on an average income.

I was a managing director and one of my tasks every year was to negotiate purchasing costs with various suppliers, and I could cover my salary in four weeks. For this I was not paid £150,000 a year but the princely sum of £24,000 plus a company vehicle, so when we ordinary folk hear of these phenomenal sums being paid to the likes of Ms Hill, I think it is about time that these so-called super managers stood back and took a good look at themselves and the moral implications that are the issue here.

As for the likes of Mr Bill Sadler, standing up and agreeing with Ms Hills's pay, all I can say is that, as a councillor, he needs to take his head out of the clouds and start talking to the people on the street and get the real feelings that are sticking in most peoples throats.

I have been a strong Conservative all my life but I am fast reaching the point where if they do not control these issues, then they can look forward to more and more of us ordinary folk going on to the streets and demonstrating with the likes of the more violent protesters, albeit against our principles as law abiding citizens.

And, God forbid for all our sakes, that this should ever happen.

Bill Austin

These excesses need looking at

Sir, Is it not time that there was a public inquiry into the excesses of senior council employees? After all, it is the hard-pressed rate payers that are paying their salaries! They are also the people making cuts that will affect the disabled, pensioners and those who are less well off, but still maintaining their luxurious lifestyles.

Perhaps you could publish the names of the councillors who voted for Andrea Hills's salary, so voters in the local elections could have their sav²

Reckless plans make no sense

Sir, Yet again George Osborne's reckless policies are to cut too deep and too fast and are hurting the families of Haverhill and this country.

In this Budget, the Tories have confirmed the banks will get a tax cut this year while families will see their child benefit frozen and will pay an average extra £450 in VAT this year. And families earning as little as £26,000 are set to lose their tax credits next year, too.

But while their plan is definitely hurting, all the signs are that it's not working either. The VAT rise and cuts which go too deep and too fast are driving up unemployment again and the independent budget watchdog says inflation will be higher, and the economy will grow more slowly this year and next.

That's why borrowing will actually be higher after this Budget than before. So these reckless plans will make it much harder to get the deficit down. It doesn't make sense.

Pile-up leads to road chaos

A MULTI-VEHICLE pileup on a nearby motorway caused havoc on roads as far away as Haverhill this week, as the regions infrastructure was once more called into quest-

The crash - which involved four HGVs, a coach and four cars - left five people injured and wreaked havoc for motorists across Essex, Hertfordshire, Cambridgeshire and Suffolk.

The crash happened at New-port, six miles north of the turnoff for Bishop's Stortford and Stansted Airport, at 10am on Monday. The road only fully reopened after 6.30pm

But the knock-on effect of the Highways Agency's diversions was felt across the region.

Chris Cullen, of the Wilsey estate in Haverhill, said that his iourney to work in Newmarket had been badly disrupted.

The 45-year-old self-emp-loyed builder said: "Normally my journey between Haverhill Newmarket takes no more than 20 minutes but vesterday it took more than 50.

"Because lorries couldn't get on the M11, they were taking B roads like the B1061 though villages like Little Wratting. The roads were just horrific."

HGVs from local companies like Vion Food based in the village and Culina distribution, based in Haverhill's industrial estate were also affected.

Mr Cullen added: "Lorries were getting stuck at tight corners and narrow areas, and BY ADAM LUKE

"The infrastructure in Cambridgeshire and Cambridge is just not good enough to deal with large accidents, which are becoming more frequent. There needs to be a plan in place."

Mr Cullen said that large vehicle should not be allowed to simply follow their satellite navigation systems and must instead be redirected on more appropriate routes, such as through Bury St Edmunds.

He also said: "You hear about all these plans to build more houses in the Kedington area and a new business park in Hanchett End, but do we really have the power, the sewage systems and the roads ready to

Zoo shows off its rare new arrivals

A RARE event has announced the start of spring at a Cambridgeshire zoo.

Three Turkmenian eagle owlets have hatched at Linton Zoo and, with so few existing in captivity the trio are a sight to be

Weighing in at just 50 grams at hatching, the owlets were rejected by their inexperienced mother and are now being hand-reared by zoo staff.

The offspring of two owls which were also hatched at the south Cambridgeshire zoo, the owlets will rapidly grow to weigh about one kilo each by the time they are three weeks old.

Kim Simmons, zoo director, said: "The Turkmenian eagle owl is one of the largest and most spectacular owls in the world and is closely related to the large European eagle owl.

"Sadly, though, it is believed to now be extinct in its original wild range around Turkmenistan. There are also very few in captivity so these three important individuals, although they may not realise it."

During the Easter holidays Linton Zoo is holding a number of keeper talks, animal feeds and interactive animal encounters.

School celebrates Fairtrade reward

FAIRTRADE status has been reached by a local school after 18 months of hard work by pupils, staff and parents, to satisfy strict requirements.

Students at Ridgewell Primary School, outside of Haverhill, have been learning about how trade works and how to make global trade fairer, so that their actions can change the world for the invest in a brighter future.

Ridgewell is the only primary school in Essex to have achieved this status to date, and has been presented with a letter of congratulation and certificate, with special permission to use the Fairtrade logo throughout the school.

Myra Bloomfield, assistant headteacher, said: "Each term we take action on fair trade.

"So far, we have made a quilt and badges, baked cakes using Fairtrade ingredients, painted Fairtrade slogans on T-shirts and organised a 'guess the number of Fairtrade sweeties in the jar" competition, designed posters and produced art work

"We have learnt about hanana and chocolate production and watched the distribution process in a local supermarket.

"At Christmas time we wrote and performed a lavish Christmas production exploring the Fairtrade message and presented it to a wider audience.'

Year 6 pupils have also been practising their persuasive writing skills by sending letters to the school's uniform suppliers, asking them to consider using Fairtrade cotton.

Cambridgeshire's most exclusive Park Home developments

The lush, stripy lawns of Bluebell Woods Cambridge & Hyde Park Ely are surrounded by mature trees, giving those superb developments a pleasant atmosphere.

Birdsong, the rustle of wind in the leaves, fresh air and tranquillity – they're all part of the Park home lifestyle.

Each home has double glazed windows, digitally controlled central heating, integrated appliances, built-in wardrobes, a luxurious master en-suite bathroom and, overall, a fashionable yet classic look.

There are many advantages with Residential park homes, they can be occupied all year round with low council tax rates (band A) plus park homes can represent excellent value for money for many people which gives them the opportunity to release capital and down size from their traditional property enabling them to enjoy a whole new lifestyle.

The Safe and Sound group in Suffolk, which includes partners such as Suffolk Police and Suffolk Trading Standards, says distraction burglars could pose as workmen offering to help with the change over.

Thomas Pugh, of the Switchover Help Scheme, said: "The switchover to digital TV is a potential means of distraction burglars preying on certain members of our community to commit crime."

He urged householders to remain vigilant, and only allow access to the Help Scheme's installers.

Mr Pugh said: "The Help Scheme will not cold call.

"Our CRB checked installers will visit by appointment only and are trained and experienced in serving both older and disabled people."

Mr Pugh said the inst-allers will always carry ID and can arrange for a password in advance.

He added: "We also encourage anyone who is unsure to call the Help Scheme on 0800 40 85 900 to verify the person at the door.'

HAVERHILL CHAMBER OF COMMERCE BUSINESS AWARDS 2011

Have a ball at awards night

reparations are well under way for what promises to be the largest and grandest gala night Haverhill has ever seen.

Chilford Hall in nearby Linton will play host to the Haverhill Chamber of Commerce Business Awards 2011, with the Weekly News as media partner, on Saturday, May 14.

The evening will celebrate all that's best about businesses and enterprise in the town and the surrounding area.

As the date draws closer, tickets are selling fast. The last awards gala, in 2008, was a sellout, and those wishing to attend are urged to book theirs before it's too late.

Sarah Howard, chairwoman of Haverhill Chamber of Commerce, visited Amanda Julia Couture Bridal Shop in Queen Street this week to pick out an evening gown for the occasion.

She said: "It is fantastic to be able to go to Haverhill to buy or hire an evening dress because there is so much you can find locally - you just need to know what is there. It is another reason

Students riding high with horse project

ARTISTIC students at a Haverhill school have taken an alternative approach to painting wildlife in a new competition.

Students at Castle Manor Business and Enterprise College, in Eastern Avenue, have been decorating carousel horses in an effort to have their artwork displayed at Pleasurewood Hills Theme Park.

The theme park is currently renovating its Victorian carousel and has given schools across the region the opportunity to paint two of their replica horses in keeping with the

Year 10 and 11 GCSE art students Laura Cummings Laura Meechan, Shelbey Proudfood and Chelsea Atherton were supported by art teachers Jodie Baker and Mick Walker, in decorating the animals, which will now be judged at Great Yarmouth race course by professional

Pembroke quits as council chief

BY JO DEEKS

Fmail: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

COUNTY councillor Jeremy Pembroke has retired as leader of Suffolk County Council after six years in the post.

Mr Pembroke announced his retirement last Thursday, saying he does not plan to stand for reelection to the authority in 2013.

He said he believes a new leader should be given the opportunity to make their mark.

Mr Pembroke has come under fire in recent months for offering chief executive Andrea Hill her £218,000 salary when she was appointed three years ago.

With major government cuts, there has been public fury over her salary and in recent weeks the issue heightened after it was revealed training sessions for Mrs Hill cost £12,000.

Now Mr Pembroke has retired, the authority's deputy leader, Cllr Jane Storey, will take on the role of leader until the council's annual general meeting on May 26.

Speaking about his time as

leader, Mr Pembroke said: "It has been a great honour to serve as the leader of Suffolk County

"As I have said many times, I am passionate about Suffolk and the people who live here. I have enjoyed being leader immensely.

"I believe we have made great strides in modernising the authority, making efficiencies and creating an organisation that, even in these difficult financial times, will deliver.

"I feel this is the right time for me to step down to give the next leader enough time to prepare for the elections in 2013."

He added: "I would like to thank the people of Suffolk for their support over the last 10 years."

His retirement was announced just a day after it was confirmed the council's director, Graham Dixon, was leaving, along with monitoring officer Eric Whitfield.

Mr Pembroke will continue his role as a local member for the Cosford division.

Ms Hill said: "It has been a pleasure to work for, and with,

"His leadership, passion and commitment have led to huge improvements at Suffolk County Council

"More than that, his integrity and honesty have made the council a better place."

Where there's a will: Tom Harrison of Haverhill's Adams Harrison firm, second from left, is among the solicitors supporting Wills Weeks.

Lawyers sign up to help hospice funds

SOLICITORS' firms from across the region are forfeiting their usual fees for wills in aid of a West Suffolk hospice.

The return of the annual Wills Week initiative aims to raise thousands of pounds for St Nicholas Hospice Care by asking people who want their last testaments written or revised to visit participating law firms during June and donate money to a good cause, rather than pay for the service.

Last year, the project raised £27,000 after more than 170 wills were looked at and this year 14 firms have signed up to beat that total, including Adams Harrison of Haverhill High Street and Wayman and Long, based in Clare.

Each firm will offer the fundraising service for a specified period within June, in which solicitors will give their time and expertise for free in support of the terminal illness charity, based in Bury St Edmunds but helping patients and their families across West Suffolk.

Margaret Lee, hospice legacies officer, said: "Don't put off making a will any longer. Getting a will drafted protects your family and gives everyone peace of mind, while your donation will ensure the hospice can continue to offer its vital services to those who need our help."

Solicitors at Adams Harrison will be available from June 8 to 15, and in Clare from June 1 to 8.

Anyone interested in Wills Weeks can register to receive a reminder by phone, letter or email in May that they need to make an appointment with a solicitor.

Visit www.stnicholashospice care.org.uk to sign up. To book an appointment, contact the solicitor directly.

studio where you can enjoy classes such as Zumba, boxercise, body zone, drop a dress size, fitness Pilates, yoga, Swiss ball, and lunchtime classes such as candle light stretch – a relaxation and stretching session completed by candle light, to refresh and de-stress you before heading back to the office.

Make sure to recharge with a cappuccino and a sandwich at the gym's café before you leave.

Enjoy brand new changing rooms and squeaky-clean showers, as well as a relaxing session in a sauna (one male, one female). There is even a hair dryer and set of straighteners in the women's changing room, proving this is one gym where attention to detail is key.

Easter plea to blood donors

BLOOD donors are being asked to make a special effort to keep their appointments over the extended Easter break.

There are concerns that blood stocks could fall if donors do not make their appointments as the four-day Easter break is closely followed by the royal wedding this

Healthy blood stocks are vital to ensure patients undergoing surgery and receiving treatment for cancer and blood diseases, such as leukaemia continue to receive the transfusions they need.

Jon Latham, assistant director of marketing for NHS Blood and Transplant, said: "The royal wedding and the double bank holiday presents welcome extra excitement for the nation, but it could become a distraction as people throw themselves into the celebrations or take extended holidays.

To become a blood donor or book an appointment, call the Donor Line on 0300 123 23 23 or visit www.blood.co.uk

Safety tips to protect pensioners

A FREE booklet has been produced to help elderly residents in and around Haverhill stay safe in their own homes.

The Safe and Sound group in Suffolk, which includes partners such as Suffolk Police and Age UK Suffolk, have joined forces to produce the publication, Staying Safe.

It covers key areas such as home security, rogue traders, bogus callers and the marking of possessions, and details how to take a few simple precautions.

Helen Taylor, information manager for Age UK Suffolk said: "Older people need to be well informed about the risks posed by this type of criminal and need to be empowered, so that they feel in charge on their doorstep and can be confident enough to turn away any doorstep callers that they are not expecting, however persuasive the caller may be."

For a free booklet, call (01473) 257039 or (01284) 757750.

Criminal still at large

POLICE are still searching for one of the UK's most wanted criminals.

William Cassidy and a friend test-drove an Audi Quattro in Inswich in February 2009 with the supposed intention of buying, but then stole the vehicle by dragging the owner out of the car.

The 32-year-old was arrested and later pleaded guilty at Ipswich Crown Court in November 2010, but after being told by the judge he would face prison, he failed to appear for sentencing.

Cassidy is white, around 5ft 2in tall, of a skinny build with a small face and drawn features.

Anyone with information on his whereabouts should contact police on 01473 613500.

13 April

To get your channels back, just remember to re-tune your digital TV equipment on or after 13 April. You can do this using your remote.

Switchover dates vary depending on where you live. To check your dates, enter your postcode at digitaluk.co.uk or call 08456 50 50 50.

How to re-tune using your TV remote

Switch on your Freeview TV or box and press 'menu' on the remote control.

Select the 'set up' or 'installation' option then 'first time installation' option (sometimes called 'factory reset', 'full re-tune' or 'default settings').

Press 'OK' if your equipment asks if you want to delete all your channels. Don't worry, this is normal.

If you are prompted for a code, try oooo or 1234. Channels will be automatically installed. Your equipment may shut down and restart.

These instructions are a guide only. Product specific instructions can be found at digitaluk.co.uk/retuning.

Rock 'n' roll show to turn back clock

If the greatest musical stars of the 1950s and 60s come alive in an action-packed show, C'mon Everybody, at Haverhill Arts Centre this weekend.

Relive the best-loved hits of Eddie Cochran, Buddy Holly, Brenda Lee, Chuck Berry, Jerry Lee Lewis, Connie Francis, Duane Eddy, Bill Haley and many more — the list is endless! It starts at 7.30pm on Saturday.

■ Jazz singer Duncan Galloway, who has had his voice compared to Bing Crosby and is lead singer of the world famous Pasadena Roof Orchestra, joins forces with Enrico Tomasso (Ray Gelato, Acker Bilk, Pasadena Roof Orchestra), Tom 'Spats' Langham (The Temperance Seven, Mary Grosz, The Swedish Jazz Kings) and Colin Good, musical director for Bryan Ferry at the arts centre on Sunday.

Join The Duncan Galloway All Star Band at 7.30pm.

■ Based on the book by Oliver Jeffers, with original music produced by the composers of The Gruffalo and Room on the Broom, The Way Back Home, presented by Big Wooden Horse, is taking place at the arts centre next Tuesday at 11am and 2pm. One day a boy finds a plane in his cupboard and decides to take it out right away. He flies higher and higher until he runs out of petrol and lands on the moon.

He is frightened, lost and alone until a passing Martian lands there too. Who is the strange alien? Can they be friends? And how will they find their way back home? The show is 50 minutes long, just right for ages 3 and

■ James Campbell's Comedy for Kids takes place at the arts centre on Thursday, April 14 at 11am.

James will perform on his own and then with a helping hand from one talented youngster from his Comedy for Kids workshops held recently at the arts centre.

James is a stand-up comedian for children over 6 and anyone who likes comedy without the rude words. His new show will cover how to look a chicken in both eyes at the same time and why owls don't like Easter, among other things.

Beware – side effects from this onehour show may include your sides hurting!

■ Hazel O'Connor, who found fame in the 1980s with the film and album Breaking Glass, teams up with saxophonist Clare Hirst and pianist

Sarah Fisher in Hazel O'Connor and the Bluja Project at the arts centre on Friday, April 15 at 8pm. Together they perform a jazzy-bluesy mix of classics such as My Funny Valentine and Stormy Weather alongside O'Connor originals.

On the cinema front, the final performance of Black Swan (15) is showing tonight at 7.45pm.

Oscar nominated Rabbit Hole (12A) stars Nicole Kidman and Aaron Eckhart as an affluent middle class couple whose domestic life collapses after the death of their young son leaves them on the brink of collapse. It's showing tomorrow at 7.45pm.

With children and adults in mind, Walt Disney's Tangled (PG) is showing next Wednesday at 10.30am and 2.30pm.

Princess Rapunzel has spent her entire life trapped in the confines of an isolated tower with only her pet chameleon for company.

But Rapunzel isn't rescued by a passing Prince Charming – instead she falls for an errant bandit named Flynn Ryder.

SUCKER PUNCH certificate 12A 109m

IN the boxing ring, a sucker punch is a devastating, unexpected blow that sends an unwary opponent sprawling across the canvas, dazed and confused.

On the big screen, director Zack Snyder's action adventure Sucker Punch is more of a gentle poke in the ribs that renders us dazed and thoroughly bemused.

There's no doubting that Snyder (300, Watchmen) can orchestrate dazzling computergenerated visuals to a pounding rock soundtrack, and he can choreograph balletic action sequences laden with slow-motion leaps and somersaults. The opening sequence here, in which the beleaguered heroine protects her little sister from their abusive stepfather, is a triumph of style set to a melancholic version of Sweet Dreams (Are Made Of This), sung in whispering tones by lead actress Emily Browning. Snyder and co-writer Steve Shibuya gorge our senses with visions of fire-breathing dragons,

Stunning results on a shoestring

HE spring weather has lured enthusiastic punters to garden centres nationwide, ready to snap up a plethora of gorgeous plants, containers and other sundries to make their garden dazzle this year.

Yet research shows that in a tough economy, gardens are a low priority among householders. The current average spend on a UK garden is £482.16 a year with 42 per cent of people spending nothing at all on their outdoor areas, according to research by woodcare manufacturer Ronseal.

But you can have a lovely garden without spending a fortune. When money is tight, there's a crop of prudent measures which can be taken which will save you a lot of cash.

Before visiting a garden centre, make a list first and only buy what is on that list. Work out what you really need, list the plants and other essentials and stick to that beforehand and see where the spaces are, how the plants you want are going to work and where you will put them.

If you have a stack of containers to fill, consider using permanent plantings rather than annuals which will need replacing each year. Check in your own garden to see what you may be able to use.

Overgrown clumps of ornamental grasses and other perennial plants such as hostas can be lifted and divided and divisions of the plant can be used to fill pots and other containers.

Hostas in particular look great grown in pots, their lush green leaves making any shady corner of shelves for sale plants which have finished flowering but should be absolutely fine next season.

You can often save quite a few ounds on perennials which will bloom year after year if you're prepared to wait a while for the results. If you're buying shrubs, buy smaller plants which are cheaper, as the space in-between can be filled with hardy annuals grown from seed that you directly sow into the flower beds. They are easy to grow, great value for money, plus they give lots of colour all summer. Try poppies, corn flowers, calendula, larkspur and candytuft.

Don't wait until late April or early May to buy trays of summer bedding when prices will be at their peak. If you want annuals, sow them from seed, which is a much cheaper option. Biennial seeds such as foxgloves. hollyhocks and sweet williams can also be sown to give you colour next year.

Look for seed bargains on eBay and at discount stores such as Poundland, Lidl and Wilkinson. Cut costs further by going halves with fellow gardening friends, as you often won't need to sow the whole packet.

Alternatively, swap your unwanted seeds and plants for some you do fancy from a number of websites including www.gardenswapshop.co.uk or free forums through organisations such as the National Gardening Association

(www.garden.org/seedswap). If you don't have time to sow seed, visit your local car boot sale to pick up plant bargains as well as chean garden tools. Bargains can also be found in the free classified ads on Gumtree, while you may pick up something for free that someone else doesn't want if you join your local Freecycle group (www.freecvcle.org/group/uk). To increase your stock for the lowest price, take cuttings from plants such as fuschias, marguerites and pelargoniums.

And if you haven't yet started to make your own compost, there's no time like the present.

There's a variety of website guides, but choose the more reliable ones such as www.gardenorganic.org.uk. Also contact your local authority to find out if it supplies subsidised bins in new vehicle launches lined up for the rest of the year, ranging from a supermini to a full-blown sports car - just as the region's latest new dealership, Cambridge Chevrolet, plans to open its doors in Trumpington.

Cambridge Chevrolet to unveil seven new models

The launches are: 1. The Orlando: Seven seater is just becoming available.

2. The New Captiva: 4WD seven-seater will be on the blocks in the next couple of months

3. The New Aveo: Corsa-sized model due later in the year

4. The Cruze hatchback: Saloon is already out there, hatch due be something for everyone at prices that are sure to appeal to all pockets," said Cambridge Chevrolet franchise manager Luke Gordon.

Part of the reason for the launches, says Chevrolet's WTCC driver Rob Huff, is that the US firm has had incredible success in China, selling more than a million cars there last year. "That's why we are launching seven new vehicles this year," Huff said. "I think that's why we're leading the market at a time of cutbacks we don't see a crisis, we see an opportunity."

24-hour test drive for new Micra from Marshall Nissan

MARSHALL Nissan is offering the option of a 24hour test drive for its new Micra – and there's no restriction as to where customers can go.

With its improved fuel efficiency and up to 593 miles between fill-ups. Micra test drivers can indulge in a trip to the coast, visit family and friends or simply go about their daily routine – it's entirely up to them.

Just one of the many new features is the Micra's new and unique Parking System that removes the stress of parallel parking. The Parking Slot measurement (PSM) device measures the available parking spaces, letting you know whether parking will be easy, difficult or not even worth trying.

Test drivers can also try out the new Micra's legendary class-topping turning radius of 4.65m. What's more, all Micra test-driving customers will be entered into a prize draw to win £2,500 worth of fuel.

The new car, slightly longer and marginally lower than its predecessor. features Nissan's all-new naturally aspirated HR12 1.2-litre, 3-cylinder petrol engine with valve-timing control (VTC) and is available with either a 5speed manual gearbox or the all-new Continuously Variable Transmission

Steve Nicol, dealer principal at Marshall Nissan, said: "The 24-hour test drive is a great opportunity for customers to try out the

Fiesta is now nation's favourite used motor

THE Ford Fiesta overtook the Vauxhall Corsa to become the nation's favourite used car in 2010, according to new analysis from Experian, the global information services company. 285,962 used Fiesta's were sold in the UK last year.

Although overall volumes were lower than in 2009, a deceleration in sales of over 13,000 used Vauxhall Corsa's (278,169 sold in 2010) the front runner in 2009 left the Fiesta in pole position. The only other change to the Top 10 was the Renault Clio (166,559) moving ahead of the Ford Mondeo (164,904) to take seventh place.

Joe Myers, automotive general manager at Experian, comments: "Experian's analysis shows that affordable smaller vehicles continue to be the most appealing to motorists shopping in the used car market. The success of the supermini segment can be put down to increased consumer interest at the value end of the market and greater demand for more fuelefficient vehicles over recent years."

Experian's data also reveals that the Mazda MX-5 outsold the Audi TT to become 2010's best selling used sports car; while Toyota's Prius was the best selling dual-fuel model, capturing more than half (55 per cent) of hybrid sales.

Meanwhile a survey conducted for Exchange and Mart reveals that reducing costs comes over and above protecting the environment. 46 per cent of consumers say fuel efficiency is a key factor in the purchasing process, and 84 per centof those said cost was the main reason for this.

The increasing popularity and success of hybrid vehicles means motorists have more choice than ever. However, a whopping 48per cent of those surveyed said they have never seriously considered buying a hybrid vehicle. In fact, only 14 per cent had considered it and do plan to buy one.

Over 46 per cent say fuel consumption is a key consideration, with a further 34 per cent admitting it somewhat affects their purchase.

The most popular used car in the UK: The Ford Fiesta is ahead of the Vauxhall Corsa.

When asked why fuel efficiency was a concern, the overwhelming majority (52.6 per cent) said it was mainly down to cost savings but also a little to do with the environment. Nearly 31 per cent said it was only down to cost, and just 2.6 per cent looked at fuel efficiency purely for environmental reasons.

The survey was conducted last month.

The new Toyota Prius: At Stansted Airport.

Stansted taxi firm books Prius fleet

LEADING airport taxi service Checker Cars has taken delivery of the first of an order for 80 Toyota Prius cars. The five full hybrid hatchbacks arrived at the firm's Stansted office last month to take their place in an existing fleet of 80 MPVs, and will be followed by 10 more in the next two months.

Checker Cars employs 1,000 drivers and is the official taxi operator not only at London Stansted but at Gatwick, Bristol, Cardiff and Southampton international airports. The company also services London Heathrow from an off-airport office.

The Toyota Prius in T4 form offers low carbon dioxide emissions of 92g/km and fuel economy of 70.6mpg (combined cycle).

MAKING its world premiere at the Seoul Motor Show this week, the Kia Naimo electric concept car combines Korean heritage with innovative modern features. Taking its name from the Korean word "Ne-mo", (pronounced 'Neh-mo', meaning 'square shape'), the Naimo electric crossover utility vehicle (CUV) was conceived by Kia's Seoul design team, and is characterised by simple lines and a solid, muscular stance.

The simple design is accentuated by striking key details, such as the wrap-around windscreen and asymmetric sunroof, and the front and rear dot-style LED lights. This mix of simple and complex is a common trait of traditional Korean arts and crafts.

Kia's design team also made use of innovative technology to give the car a premium feel and to ensure the car's exterior remained uncluttered. For example, Naimo has no traditional winer blade on the windscreen – instead it employs a high-intensity air jet at the base of the windscreen that performs an 'air wiper' function. Conventional door mirrors have also been replaced with miniature cameras installed in the Apillars.

Naimo's interior was designed to evoke a strong sense of tranquility and features hand-crafted materials throughout.

Power comes from Permanent Magn Magnet Synchronous Motor with a maximum output of 80kW (107bhp) and peak torque of 280 Nm, enabling the Naimo to reach a top speed of 93mph. A twin-pack 27 kWh Lithium Ion Polymer battery is located under the boot floor, providing a driving range of 124 miles on a single charge.

Naimo joins Kia's growing test fleet of hybrid, electric and fuel-cell vehicles

TEACHER OF MATHEMATICS (PART-TIME APPROX 0.6) Perse Girls and The Stephen Perse Sixth Form College

Required for September 2011

Owing to expansion, we are looking for a well-qualified and enthusiastic teacher of Mathematics to join our dynamic Mathematics Department and to teach approximately 0.6 of a timetable. The post holder will be responsible for the teaching of Mathematics throughout the School, from Key Stage 3 to Oxbridge standard. Both A Levels and the IB Diploma Programm are offered at The Stephen Perse Sixth Form College

Further information about this post and an application form are

The Stephen Perse Foundation is committed to safeguarding and promoting the welfare of children and applicants must be willing to undergo child protection screening appropriate to the post, including checks with past employers and the Criminal Records Bureau.

The Stephen Perse Foundation comprises four independent day schools: The Stephen Perse Pie-Preg (3 – 7), Perse Girls Junior School (ages 7 – 11), Perse Girls Senior Sch. (ages 11 – 16) and The Stephen Perse Sixth Form College (ages 16 – 19). We are a single-sex girls' school between 7 – 16, with a co-ducational Pre-Prep and Suff Form.

Haslingfield 1 West Wratting 4

Cambridge and District Colts League, under-14B A POINT-BLANK save from keeper Aaron Millar inspired West Wratting to victory and promotion to the A division.

Wratting, sponsored by Qualitape UK, went into a 2-0 lead against their thirdplaced rivals thanks to goals from Earle Lambert and and Mitchell Burr.

However, Haslingfield pulled a goal back early in the second half and looked as if they had equalised only for Millar to block a point-blank volley.

That jolted Wratting to push on and further goals from Ryan Cooper and Mark Coulson, who shared the man-of-thematch nomination, eased them to a deserved victory.

Hundon Hawks 8 Cambourne 1

Cambridge and District Colts League, under-12D ANDERS Pilley took his season's goals tally to 42 as Hundon completed their season by clinching promotion.

Pilley scored a second-half hat-trick to leave Čambourne floundering, although the damage was done in the first half when

Hawks, beaten only once in the season, stormed into a 5-1 lead. Prompted by the midfield duo of Branham Ince, who scored twice, and Milo

Holmes, Hundon took an early grip and never released it. The other goals came from Harry Sargent, Holmes and Tyler Bell.

Longstanton 1 Aztecs 6

BM Kempton 9v9 League, under-12C

TWO three-goal bursts helped Aztecs continue their recent impressive away form.

Although they dominated the early exchanges, the visitors were unable to beat a defiant home keeper.

However, Tyler Thurgood broke the deadlock midway through the half, with Tom Cropper and Jack Steward quickly making it 3-1 before Longstanton pulled a goal back.

And a further three goals in five second-half minutes settled matters, Steward adding his second before Thurgood struck twice to complete his hat-trick.

Brampton Spartans 2 Castle Camps 4

Cambridge and District Colts League, under-12A ALTHOUGH they twice trailed, Castle Camps bounced back to seal a place in the top four of the division.

For their final game of the season,
Camps had all their squad involved, and despite having the better of the first 15 minutes, they were hit by a goal on the break

Ethan Woodley, however, hammered in a free kick to level matters before the break only for Spartans to regain the lead early in the second half.

They held that lead for 15 minutes until Morgan Jones levelled with a header. And two goals in as many minutes from Charlie Ellam helped Camps finish at a canter.

Milton 1 Kedington 12 Cambridge and District Colts League, under-13C

ELLIS Wiffen slammed five goals as Kedington put Milton to the sword

He rammed a first-half hat-trick as the visitors dominated the opening exchanges before going on the rampage after the

George Mustoe broke the deadlock and an own goal completed the scoring before the interval, but two goals from Ty Alleyne, and further efforts from Bailey Cassidy, Cameron Larkin and skipper Jason Moore backed up Wiffen's personal haul. West Wratting 5 Spartak 78 1

Cambridge and District Colts League, under-15A

WEST Wratting ended the season on a high with a comfortable win. They never really looked back after Zak Ollington, the lively James Percy and Harry Willett sent them into a 3-0 lead at the break.

The home side pulled a goal back but Cameron Biggs restored the three-goal cushion soon after.

Then it was all about Willett. He added his second when he smashed in the loose ball after his inswinging corner was partially cleared, but his attempt to finish with a hat-trick was foiled by the keeper, who tipped a fierce drive on to the post and then saved his low penalty after Percy had been brought down.

Rovers draw blanks

Haverhill Rovers 0 Wroxham 0

Ridgeons League, Premier Division

PETER Betts' Haverhill ended their three-game losing run in the league thanks to a stalemate with third-placed Wroxham at the New Croft on Saturday.

But hopes that Rovers had finally put their black run behind them were ended a few days later when they were beaten 1-0 at mid-table Stanway.

Those results mean Rovers are still waiting for their first Premier Division victory since February 5 and have now gone five matches without a goal.

Marc Abbott, Dalton O'Brien and Callum Harrison all went close to breaking the deadlock for Haverhill, but former Cambridge United goalkeeper Scott Howie thwarted them.

It was much the same on Wednesday when Owen Paynter and O'Brien had good chances to put Haverhill back on terms after Stanway took the lead in the 30th minute.

Talking about the Wroxham game, Betts said: "With the situation we've been in lately, to play a team that beat us 2-0 the other week and get a point was

"I don't think many other keepers in the league would have made them. "We must have had seven or eight

Jamie Challis, Dan Pilcher and Owen

Paynter are also desperate to be fit for selection, while O'Brien's two appearances this week have put him firmly in contention.

"Dalton was a really big plus for us on Saturday," added Betts. "He got through 75 minutes and did very well."

There are still some seats available on the supporters' coach on Tuesday evening, which departs from the New Croft for the Abbey at 6pm.

Travel costs £5 per person and anyone interested should contact Betts on 07539 229114 for more information.

Before that Haverhill travel to Newmarket on Saturday in the league.
